Other State Initiatives for Service and Volunteerism	Connecticut Campus Compact Collaborative - By leveraging state funds, the Commission provides support to Connecticut Campus Compact (housed at Fairfield University). The goals of the compact collaborative are to increase the service, service-learning and community partnerships at institutions of higher education in Connecticut; strengthen the infrastructure on college and university campuses in Connecticut for service, service-learning and community partnership activities; and encourage the recognition of students, student groups and faculty who exhibit exemplary community service. Connecticut Higher Education Community Service Awards – a recognition program that highlights the community service being done by students and faculty on Connecticut's college campuses. Governor's State Employee Mentoring program - Former Governor John G. Rowland committed the State of Connecticut to provide these services to 20,000 of its at-risk youth in the new century. To help accomplish this, he signed into law the nation's first bill allowing eligible state employees one week of additional annual vacation — with pay — after one year if they mentor a youth through the Big Brother Big Sister program.
