

Instructions for Reading the Pre and Post Test Results

The results of the Pre and Post Tests are in two separate files. As each file is opened the results are listed with a separate dedicated to each participant by identification number in the upper left hand corner. Utilizing the arrows at bottom of the screen, the participants can locate their results by their unique identification number. The report reflects the actual responses to the questions by the participants. If the response is highlighted in red, the question was answered incorrectly. The original post test with answers is posted on the National Resource Center website.
