Service Activities

RSVP volunteers will serve as tour guides for the University College botanical gardens, providing free guided tours of the gardens to tourists and members of the local community. Volunteers will provide information on the life-cycle of exotic plant species and describe how botanical staff care for and maintain the plants. RSVP volunteers will provide 1,152 hours of service annually (6 hours per day, 4 days per week, for 48 weeks). Without assistance from RSVP, University College can provide guided tours of the gardens only two days per week. RSVP volunteers enable University College to provide guided tours of the gardens six days, including during weekends, holidays, and other high-volume periods.
